Delay In Delivery Of Mail Explained By Postal Department

Delayed And Lost Mail Addressed To Armed Forces Due Largely To Unavoidable Circumstances

During recent months, complaints from the public of delayed or lost mail addressed to members of the armed forces indicate that there is wide misunderstanding of how this mail is handled and of the difficulties encountered in its delivery.

These complaints, incidentally, are far fewer than the number received during the First World War. Although the volume of mail is much larger, according to veteran postal officials who have directed postal activities in both wars.

Mail for members of the armed forces is delivered by the Postal Service to Army and Navy authorities at post offices convenient to camps or stations in this country or to ports of embarkation when addressed to persons overseas. The Postal Service then has no further jurisdiction over the mail, and responsibility for its delivery from that point on lies entirely with the Army and Navy. Likewise, the Army and Navy handle mail from members of the armed forces until it is delivered to civilian post offices in this country, and the Postal Service has no jurisdiction over the mail until so received.

Army and Navy post offices are, technically, branches of civilian post offices in this country, but they are not under the jurisdiction of the Postal Service, being maintained and operated by the War and Navy Departments and manned by military and naval personnel. For instance, A. P. O. 1234, c/o Postmaster, New York, N. Y., would be a branch of the New York Post Office, although it may be located with troops in Africa and elsewhere. Mail deposited in that post office for delivery in this country would carry the return address of "A. P. O. 1234, New York, N. Y.," although it came from abroad, and the postmark on the envelope is placed thereon at the overseas location and not at New York.

Directory service, through which improperly addressed mail is read, checked and forwarded, is provided by the Army and Navy. Delays in the mail to the armed forces may be caused by various factors. Transportation of the mail sometimes must be postponed so that more urgent needs for arms, food, or more military and naval personnel may be filled first. Although mails are dispatched at every opportunity, at times the overburdened facilities cannot accommodate all the mail and it must be held until shipping space is available. Ships must travel in convoys, in the interest of safety, and a convoy can start only when the last ship is loaded and can travel only as fast as the slowest ship in the group—all of which consumes much time. Transfers of personnel from one point to another also add to the time required for mail to catch up with the men shifted. Censorship, which is done by the Office of Censorship or military authorities, may also cause some delay, although this is held to a minimum. The Post Office Department does not have jurisdiction over the censorship of mail.

Ship sinkings by the enemy account for much of the lost mail. Many thousands of letters and packages have been on ships lost by enemy action. Many postal patrons have wondered why there is more rapid and regular mail service from the armed forces overseas than to them. This is because less mail comes from overseas than goes to our armed forces overseas, ships and planes on return trips have more space available; and the location of addressees in this country is more stable than that of overseas personnel.

V-mail letters are given priority in transportation by the Army and Navy over ordinary mail, and, when possible, are sent by plane.

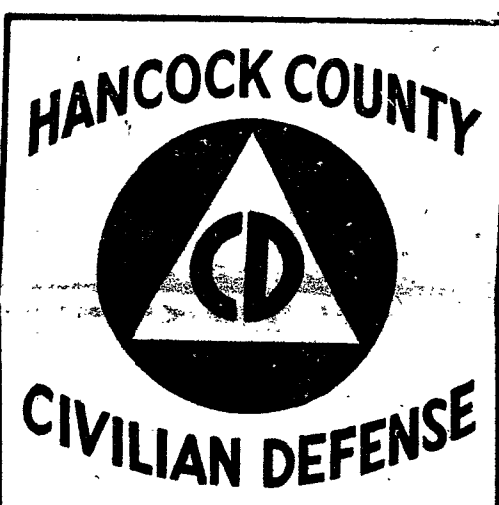

Some of the public are under the misapprehension that the Post Office Department can provide the addresses and locations of soldiers, sailors, and marines abroad. The Postal Service has no such records. When it is necessary to obtain such addresses of soldiers they may be had from the Office of the Adjutant General, War Department, Washington, D. C.; of sailors, from the Bureau of Naval Personnel, Navy Department, Washington; and of marines, from the Marine Corps Headquarters, Navy Department Building, Washington.

AT CAMP BLANDING

PVT. MONROE GARCIA

Monroe Garcia of Lakeshore is a Private First Class in Company D, Quartermaster Bn., Field Bakery, Camp Blanding, Florida.

A few simple rules to follow, preparatory to and during blackouts:

If riding in automobiles, pull up to the nearest curb, put your lights out and remain there for duration of blackout.

Do not play radios in parked automobiles.

Pedestrians should stay off streets whenever possible.

Do not leave lights on at home when you go out, unless they are well shaded, so as not to show. Only any orders given you by your air raid warden.

The Office of Civilian Defense has placed an order for two new electric signal sirens and expect to have them in operation in time for the next blackout.

Persons requiring a light on in their homes during blackout, should purchase regulation blackout shades, so that light will not show through.

There have been sufficient trial blackouts to educate the population. During future blackouts violators will be arrested and prosecuted.

STANISLAUS BAND TO SPONSOR SECOND CONCERT, FEB. 22ND.

Another Delightful Program
Is Being Planned For Benefit of Local Community

Word comes to us from Brother Romuald, Band Master, that as a result of assiduous care and hard work the St. Stanislaus Band is ready to make its second public appearance. The presentation of the second in a series of concerts is slated for Monday evening February 22, in the St. Joseph Academy Auditorium. As was the case in the previous concert, Brother Romuald has selected another patriotic date as an appropriate occasion for a public appearance by the band.

Those who attended the concert on December 7, last, praised the members of the band for the splendid program rendered by them. An even better group of selections is promised for this second concert. No one who will be in attendance will have any cause to regret it. There will be no admission charged.

As part of the program Mrs. Louis B. Pate will render several classical selections on the piano. This will be another rare treat for music devotees who so enthusiastically enjoyed her artistic interpretations last December.

The following is a list of some of the numbers that will be played as part of the program. The solos and ensembles will be published later.

"Adoremus Te"—a chorale written by the well known Palestrina. This chorale offers a wonderful opportunity to test the intonation and instrumentation of the band. "Louise"—a selection from the popular Musical Comedy by that name. It is characterized by its many changes in tempo and meter and especially by its strong dynamic contrasts. "Sir Galahad"—a descriptive overture written by R. E. Hildreth. The composer chose for his theme the four first lines of the first stanza of the poem by Alfred Lord Tennyson, "Stepping Along." "The Schmitz," and "Bavaria" are three spirited marches that will offer a fine contrast to the selections of a more classical nature. "Der Fuehrer's Face"—a razz number dedicated to all those who have a dislike for the owner of that notorious profile. "Rampage of the Old Grey Mare"—a hybrid skit written by King Stacy. This number is always a "big hit" with any audience. Naturally it is a show number for the trombone section of the band.

We are indebted to Brother Romuald and the students who make up the band for the excellent entertainment they prepare for this community. We sincerely hope that the citizens of Bay St. Louis will continue to show their appreciation of these young musicians by attending the concert.

Bay St. Louis Coast Guard Returns From Maneuvers

The Bay St. Louis Coast Guard Auxiliary returned on last Monday from maneuvers in Lake Borgne which they participated in with the other Coast Guard auxiliaries from this section.

The local auxiliary composed of Ben F. Hille, J. H. Rudder, Victor Lizana, Edward P. Ortle, Leo G. Ford, Bernard Blafze, and Alfred Vassalli left in the "Friendship" owned by Mr. Ortle, "Big Ben" owned by Hille, and "Sis" owned by Mr. Rudder on Saturday evening going through Chef Menteur and into Lake Borgne where they were joined by members of the Coast Guard Auxiliary from New Orleans, namely Jesse Rosenfield, Jr., Ben F. Davis, Harold Lejeune, William Haspel, J. G. Lavorette.

The maneuvers were known as "The Execution of Dunkirk" and about fifty boats which have been engaged in patrolling the waters of the Coast section took part and engaged in maneuvers equivalent to those in which the English rescued a large number of troops from the French Coast.

The members of the Coast Guard Auxiliary offer their services for the duration with no remuneration and are performing splendid services in patrolling the waters of Mississippi Sound and assisting the government, each member giving his service for twenty-four consecutive hours once each week.

His father reports that he is improving.

Meeting of Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 Held At County Courthouse

After being inactive for several months the American Legion held a very enthusiastic meeting at the Courthouse Tuesday, February 9th. State Commander Fred Young, Sam Stebbing and Tom Lee of the Service Commission were present. A number of Legionnaires attended the meeting.

Commander Leo Ford called the meeting in order and introduced the visitors. Commander Ford called to the attention of those present that due to the amount of work that he has been doing at his office and the shortage of help that he would not be able to give as much attention as is required of a Post Commander and asked that he be replaced as Post Commander for the balance of the term. The members accepted his resignation with regrets and elected F. J. Cassidy as Commander for the balance of the term. Harold Holderith was elected vice Commander and Miguel Parillo adjutant. Officers were sworn in by State Commander Fred Young.

Mr. Stebbing gave a very interesting talk of the service that is being rendered to the veterans of the last war and the possibilities of the services that can be rendered to the veterans of the present war.

State Commander Young spoke of the great work the legion has been performing since its organization and of the big job they are doing in the present crisis. He was very much pleased over the enthusiasm shown by the members present and felt that the membership will be greatly increased in a short while.

BUD S LETTER

Well, I am about the best fellow you ever saw to make mistakes, however, I don't mind admitting the error of my ways.

The other day I was raising a ruckus about tires and gas and I sure was cussing the ration board (to my wife, of course). One of my tires was a little worn and I couldn't have any bleasure on four gallons of gas per week. I just knew the ration board members were the meanest people on earth. They were just a few old bureaucrats getting big salaries out of our tax money and picking on me because they had the authority to do so. I talked that way for about 30 minutes, and I sure was raising sand and kicking up dirt.

Well, my wife asked her brother why they treated me so bad (she believed me, poor thing) and he just tells her he don't know. But Red, he calls me off to one side and does he give me good raking over. First thing off, he says that ration board members don't get no pay. Well, that floors me. Last month he says, they had a couple of passenger car tires for their quota to give out and a stack of applications a foot high. Well, that floors me again because I thought they could give out as many tires as they wanted to. I didn't know the government set their quota.

Well, I am to say something—so I says they have good tires for their cars I bet. He shows me one of them fellow's cars. I takes a gander at the tires and Red, them tires is so bad they won't stay together any longer than our friend John stays out of jail. There was only a stick of gum for gas on the windshield, too.

Now Red, I am ashamed of myself, and from now on I'm going to do all I can to help those men. If course, I was talking through ignorance—People say ignorance is bliss—but I say more bliss and less ignorance.

—BUD.

STANISLAUS AIRPLANE SPOTTERS LAUDED BY OFFICIALS

Brother Dominic Is Chief
Observer of Corps

The St. Stanislaus Airplane Spotting Post which was organized last Spring has just received a citation for excellence from the headquarters of the Third Fighter Command of which it is considered an integral part.

During the past week several officers of the Third Fighter Command headed by Colonel Levi Brown visited the school and inspected the Post. While here they addressed the student body on the various phases of airplane spotting, pointing out its serious purpose and giving several pointers as to further increasing the high efficiency of the local unit. The speaker was profuse in his praise of the fine work done by the boys of St. Stanislaus.

The lecturer was amazed and gratified at the familiarity of the student body with the technique of airplane spotting and the ease with which they named and identified not only American planes but Japanese and German makes as well. In utter desperation at the ungainly ability of the students he humorously injected the question: "What is my name?" The speaker developed at great length the WEFT system by which plans may be identified. The expression is a code word for the four essential parts of an airplane. The letter "W" refers to the wings; the letter "E" to the engine; the letter "F" to the fuselage and finally the letter "T" to the tail structure. He indicated the chief differences among the standard planes of both American and foreign makes, and especially called attention to the characteristics peculiar to certain types which simplified their identification.

The students were well pleased with the informative lecture, particularly those who are members of the Air Spotting Corps. They are ambitious to improve their knowledge and skill so as to bring still further credit to our post. This is the kind of loyalty and patriotism that keeps America free—the intelligent, cooperative and sincere effort of each citizen to aid as much as he can where he can.

For military reasons it is not considered advisable to divulge the number of planes observed and registered by this group. However, we feel justified in saying that few, if any planes have eluded the alert vigilance of these eager boys. At first they were handicapped in the speed factor relative to reporting planes to headquarters, but now that we have the facilities of a new post this important defect will be overcome.

There are approximately sixty members of the Airplane Spotting Corps at St. Stanislaus. All have proven themselves willing and anxious to serve. Neither cold nor heat, sunshine or rain interferes with their acceptance of duty. They are truly deserving of the recognition which they have just received. Bay St. Louis is proud of the work these boys are doing and we extend to them our congratulations.

The members of the Corps are as follows:

TO each individual of every nation of the world should be accorded the sublime privilege of thinking for himself.

This privilege has been taken away from millions by the tyrants of today and it is only in a few countries of this world that people are allowed to think, feel, and act according to their own dictates. In this glorious nation of ours, the United States of America, which was founded on, and has survived, by the policy of freedom of thought and deed, we today are again waging war and once again sending our sons to gory battle fields so that not only our nation, but the nations of the world may maintain the freedom of the individual.

For this our men are fighting and dying. For this, we are as individuals and as a whole giving of ourselves, and as each day, week and month passes, until a total victory is assured so that our children may be granted a future free from tyranny, we are going to be called upon to give more and more.

So few of us are in a position to make the supreme sacrifice that the valorous men of our country are making—but we are privileged by being able to help them in their fight for freedom. As a whole, there are organizations lending a helping hand wherever they may be called. As individuals it is up to us to make these organizations. Among the foremost in the agencies of aid in this great fight is the Red Cross. As an organization, it is unsurpassed. It reaches out to the ends of the earth to alleviate the sufferings of mankind, and not only does it function for the poor and the needy, but it functions for you and for me.

There is not a man wearing the uniform of his country today whom the Red Cross does not assist in some manner. Therefore it is up to us, as never before to give aid to this most worthy of all causes. It is the mother organization of succor, and gives with a mother's love to all of her children—it may be your husband, brother or son who is in trouble, wounded on the field of battle, ill in a hospital, imprisoned in an enemy camp, or just far from home needing some friend to cheer a lonely hour. There is not a need that these men might have that is not supplied, but anticipated by the Red Cross and taken care of.

Then again there are the loved ones left behind when a valiant man leaves to fight for freedom. Loved ones that must be taken care of.

Circumstances do not always permit them to have just what that man would desire for them, or do for them what he would were he at home to take care of their needs. Once again the Red Cross is hard at work supplying care for those who need it—food, shelter and raiment. And in those countries which have felt the actual sting of war—bombings and enemy troops taking possession of their cities—their children crying from hunger and cold—again the Red Cross comes in—clothing and food are provided for the homeless and hungry.

And we are so vitally involved in this struggle for freedom we must each and every one feel the urge to give not until it hurts, as giving never hurts, it is the ultimate in self-satisfaction, and when we give with a full heart and a liberal hand to those who are less fortunate than ourselves, we are reminded of the words of the great poet who said "He who gives with his heart, helps three—himself, his hungering neighbor and me." So this year let us muster our all to carry on the work that is so essential to our men in service who are giving their lives to keep our land forever the "Home of the Brave and the Land of the Free."

Give generously to the American Red Cross, and you can then feel that you are doing your part in carrying on a great work, by a great organization.—Anonymous.

SHOULD BE ELECTED WITHOUT OPPOSITION

THE 40th State Senatorial District of Mississippi, comprising Lamar, Pearl River and Hancock Counties, have an agreement to rotate the election of a Senator each term. This year Pearl River County will supply the Senator from this District. Up to this time we have no announced candidate, however we hear of several who contemplate making the race, and of all the prospective candidates who have been mentioned, one stands out who is eminently fitted to represent our District in the State Senate. This man has served Pearl River County as representative, as Sheriff, and for 32 years as Chancery Clerk. He retired as Chancery Clerk in 1940, and his son was elected to succeed him.

H. K. Rouse, of Poplarville, would make an able Senator, he has the necessary experience. Is well known throughout the State, and would give to this district a Senator who would be a leader in the upper body of our Legislature.

He has been a conscientious, honest, and faithful public official, who has given his entire life to the service of his people. Day or night he was ever at their service. This man has accumulated very little of the wealth of this world. His friend who may have been in need came first.

It would be a wonderful gesture on the part of the citizens of Pearl River County to offer Mr. Rouse as their candidate for the State Senate unopposed, in appreciation of his service to his county.

In the event this should not occur, and he should have opposition we will wholeheartedly support him. From close association, and careful observation we can assure our friends, they would not make a mistake in helping to elect Kire Rouse to the State Senate. He will give us the ablest representative we have had in the Senate in years.

If the Russians manage a few more victories and the Anglo-Americans get underway in North Africa Herr Hitler will become a pacifist.

Now is a good time to remember that disarmament did not keep us out of the present war, even though this nation led the world in disarmament.

We cannot tell who will govern Europe after the war is over but we are sure that it won't be the Nazis.

"THUNDER BIRDS"
A. & G. THEATER
SUNDAY AND MONDAYStarring Gene Tierney with Preston Foster and John
Sutton—In Technicolor

The locale of this film is Thunder Bird Field in the Arizona desert, where the flying cadets of the United States, Great Britain and China are receiving their primary training. For the purposes of entertainment the focus has been narrowed to concentrate on a single British cadet but in so spotlighting this one lad, it nevertheless gives an over-all picture. Technicolor is always an advantage in airplane pictures and this one is no exception. The scenery is breath-taking.

The usual formula is missing; there is no smart-aleck student, no Colonel's daughter and no clubbiness among the students. There is a heroic rescue but it is not an important feature or climax. Apparently the war has become too deadly earnest to allow time for theatrics, a fact which may or may not be appreciated by the average motion picture audience.

Gene Tierney holds up the romantic end satisfactorily. Her role is the accustomed one—she spurns her old friend the aviation instructor for the young British cadet. Preston Foster is his usual self as the instructor, and John Sutton has the role of the cadet. Jack Holt and Reginald Denny are respectively the British and American squadron leaders.

Since much of the action takes place in a Western atmosphere, the musical background of "Deep in the Heart of Texas" seems to be quite in order.

Lamar Trotti produced from his own screen play, a combination which seems to be advantageous. William A. Wellman lives up to his reputation for directing fast-moving pictures.

Rotary Club Changes
Hour of Meeting

The Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis at their meeting on Wednesday a week ago, voted to dispense with noon-day meetings and meet at Hotel Reed each Wednesday evening at 8:30.

All members have been sent notices of this change in the hour of the meeting.

Bay St. Louis Rotary Club is indeed fortunate in having an excellent meeting place and visiting members have complimented the members on the splendid meal served through the interest and diligence of their president, Mr. Howard LeTissier.

It is expected that with a drive for new members and with members having more time to devote to the club's activities at the evening meetings that a noticeable increase of membership will be the result of this change.

ORTE THEATER
SUNDAY AND MONDAY
"ARABIAN NIGHTS"In Technicolor—Starring
Jon Hall—Maria Montez
Sabu

Hollywood magic reaches lofty new heights in Universal's "Arabian Nights," according to the flood of enthusiastic raves by critics who have witnessed initial showings of the new Technicolor innovation. The picture, presented by Walter Wanger Productions, comes to Ortte Theater Sunday and Monday and stars Jon Hall, Maria Montez and Sabu.

Rarely has any cinema venture been anticipated with livelier interest, and reports indicate that the picture will come up to every expectation. It is significant to note that advance announcements stress the adult entertainment element of the film, which would indicate that the full fascination of the original Arabian Nights tale has not been sacrificed.

Adventures Revealed
The story, dealing with the romantic adventures of Sherazade, exotic dancer of Bagdad, moves swiftly against the vivid background of the Orient. Described as a gleaming panorama of desert warfare and slave conquest, the plot highlights the rivalry of two princely brothers over the affection of the dancer.

Maria Montez, glamorous Latin star appears as Sherazade, while Jon Hall and Lief Erikson portray the brothers who fall under her spell. Sabu is said to have his most colorful role and others in the imposing cast include Billy Gilbert, Edgar Barrier and Shemp Howard.

Producer Wanger is declared to have assembled a multitude of Hollywood's most beautiful girls for the lavish harem and slave market sequences, while others were recruited for spectacular dancing scenes in which Miss Montez is featured.

Important characterizations are contributed by Thomas Gomez, Turhan Bey, John Qualen, Charles Coleman and Richard Lane. Attractive feminine players include Elyse Knox, Acquanna and Carmen D'Antonio.

The story and screen play for "Arabian Nights" was written by Michael Hogan, with additional dialogue by True Boardman. The production was designed by Jack Otterson and Natalie Kalmus presided as Technicolor Director.

Local Basketball Team
Victorious

A close and exciting basketball game in which the St. Joseph Academy Blue Jays were victorious by a score of 32-22 over the team from Ursuline Academy of New Orleans was played at St. Stanislaus College Gymnasium on last Saturday evening.

Despite the fact that this was the first game of the season, and that the Blue Jays had been practicing only a short time, they showed supremacy over the Ursuline Academy's basketball team which has enjoyed the reputation of not having lost a single game this season.

Outstanding plays in the game were made by the Kehoe girls, Katherine Ellen and Patsy, and by the superb guarding of Thais Gardebled and Betty Simpson.

The members of the visiting team were: Claire Fitzwilliams, Rosemary Schott, Jeanne Prator, Elaine Thrett, Rosemary Dillon, Beverly Barbee, Elodie Conzelman, Colleen Maloney and Jane Ann Atkinson.

The Blue Jay team includes: Catherine and Patsy Kehoe, Thais and Jeanne Gardebled, Eunice Turdury, Emily Claire Murtagh, Carol Bignuet, Teenie Polson, Anna Pitale, Bunny Bizup, Jo Ann Ellis, Mary Frances Scaife, Carol Stevenson, Betty Simpson, Elaine Kilpatrick, Rai Vairan.

6 Wartime Lighting Suggestions

1. Clean lamp bowls and lamp bulbs frequently, to get from 25% to 50% more light from lamps you have.

2. Use white shades or shades with white linings (re-paint 'em if necessary). Dark shades waste light.

3. Sit close enough to the lamp to get all the help it can give your eyes. A difference of a few inches may mean 50% less light.

4. Avoid direct glare from lamp bulbs or bowl, by using shades that are deep enough and big enough.

5. Place each lamp so it puts no glare in the eyes of either person using it.

6. Arrange lamps and furniture so each lamp can serve two or more people, if possible.

THE County AGENTS' COLUMN

County and city "Victory Garden" Leaders met at the Courthouse and made recommendations for Victory Garden Program. Those attending the meeting were Mr. Al Voight, chairman, of Victory Garden Program, Mrs. Rea from O. C. D., Mrs. George Stevenson, The county agent and Home Demonstration Agent, Randolph W. Seal, County U. S. D. A. War Board, Mrs. Gager, O. C. D. Recommendations were made that every home in Hancock County would have gardens for home use. Leafy green and yellow vegetables, to be grown in every garden.

Repairing Harrows

Harrows save much labor in smoothing seed beds and in killing sprouted weed seeds. Smoothing harrows which are of light draft and good width, give rapid coverage of ground.

If harrow teeth are slightly worn on one side, the clamps should be loosened and the worn teeth given a one-fourth turn and tightened. If the teeth are worn badly they should be repaired either by low heating and hammering on the anvil or by grinding on the emery wheel. When teeth are worn to give uneven length below the frame, the short teeth should be loosened in their clamps and given the same length below the frame. The length of the shortest tooth when badly worn will be the gauge of length for all the other teeth for length below the frame.

All frame members should be straightened if bent and all bolts tightened to reduce wear and strain on the parts. Harrows should be set on end in shelter when not in use.

Disk harrows approach the plow as a tillage tool—used for cutting trash, sod and soil. The chief wearing parts are the bearings, the bumper and the blades. To check the bearings, stand straddle of the disk gang at the bearing, then lift slowly up and down and note looseness of bearing. If bearings are loose, new maple block and bearing housing may be repaired.

The oiling pipe or coupling should be cleaned and refitted to its place. If the bumpers which receive the inside and thrust is worn, it will be necessary to loosen the arbor bolt and replace the bumper. The blades are sharpened by grinding slowly on the back side. If ground too fast, however, they will lose temper. The disks should be removed from the arbor bolt, ground uniformly and replaced on the arbor bolt with spools positioned identically in the order of original assembly. Check all loose parts for wear and needed replacement. Reassemble in order of dismounting, tighten all parts and keep bearings well greased.

Use Available Fertilizers to Increase Production

That increase of food and feed due to judicious use of fertilizers usually is the most economically produced part of the crop. This will be true particularly this year with labor shortage and farm prices relatively high in their relation to crop production costs. Every farmer should consider the value of fertilizers this year in maintaining the production of his farm, despite handicaps.

Old lespedeza meadows, except in the delta should receive 500 pounds of ground limestone, 200 pounds superphosphate, and 50 pounds potash fertilizer to the acre before the middle of March, and the earlier the better. Nearly twice as much hay is produced to the acre usually when this is done. Fertilizing is much easier than increasing acreage to produce more hay. It appears that a satisfactory peanut program will be worked out. Since peanuts are so important in our war needs, all farmers should make their plans to grow as many acres of this crop as they can. Rich, well drained land that grew cotton last year is better for peanuts than corn land, or other weedy or grassy land. Flat break land for peanuts in February, 6 to 8 inches deep, and leave until near planting time.

Meat Regulations and Family Meat Supply

A home raised meat supply should be preserved this year by farm families. Processing that meat locally relieves pressure on central plants and need not violate any wartime regulations.

The current restrictions on meat are an emergency effort to conserve supplies until formal rationing can be put into operation. Under these restrictions farmers are asked to:

1. Budget their yearly meat needs on the basis of 2½ pounds of meat a person a week and limit their consumption, including home dressed supplies, to this amount. Poultry, fish and game are not included in the restrictions. 2. Sell no more home-dressed meat this year than they sold last year.

The use of local meat handling facilities for preparing, processing and storing home meat supplies is possible and should be encouraged. Commercial slaughterers have been given quotas by OPA to divert meat to war use. The larger operators, "quota slaughterers" are limited to

MRS. PANSY BENOIT DIED SUDDENLY FRIDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Pansy Mae Benoit, wife of W. B. Benoit died suddenly here on Friday, February 5 as a result of a fall during the surprise black-out. She was at the home of Mrs. M. S. Gooden, and had started to return to her home in State street when the black-out went on.

Mrs. Catherine Thomas of 302 Second Street was standing at her gate, having just returned from turning out a light of a next door neighbor who was absent from home, when Mrs. Benoit came along. Mrs. Thomas asked Mrs. Benoit to come in but the latter is quoted as saying that she was hurrying home to turn off her lights.

Mrs. Thomas re-entered her home but upon hearing a call returned to the gate and found Mrs. Benoit had fallen. Albert Kranky and Ogden Kergosien neighbors, had already reached her and they carried her to Mrs. Thomas' where she was placed on a lounge. Mrs. Thomas stated that Mrs. Benoit did not seem nervous and said "I must have been walking too fast."

Failing to locate a doctor the two men, with the help of Joe Burrows, another neighbor, carried her to the lounge to the hospital, but she died enroute, supposedly of a heart attack.

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Benoit from her late residence on Sunday afternoon the Rev. Warwick Aiken, rector of Christ Episcopal Church officiating at the home and the Bay St. Louis Chapter Order Eastern Star, of which she was an officer, conducting the service at the grave in Cedar Rest Cemetery.

The pallbearers were John Mollere, John Collier, T. F. Monti, Jr., Vincent Lagroue, Frank Quintini and Bill Witter.

Mrs. Benoit is survived by her husband W. B. Benoit who was in the Veterans Facility at Biloxi when the accident occurred; a son Robert Gibson, by a former marriage who lives at Pascagoula.

The Benoit family came to Bay St. Louis about five years ago from Pearl River, but they were not old residents of that section, and had made many friends here. Many people have expressed themselves as having grown quite fond of Mrs. Benoit because of her kindness and the Echo extends to the remaining members of the family deep sympathy.

Mayor J. L. Ricks of Houston has made the suggestion that all merchants close their stores one day each week and let the clerks and the proprietor put in that day making a "Victory Garden," clerks to receive the same pay as if working in the store. He suggests this as a war measure, on the ground that it would provide food for a large number of people.

1942 Cotton Crop

Cotton ginned from the 1942 crop up to January 10, 1943, a total of 4,000,000 running bales. The final ginner's report will be issued on Mar. 10th. The ginning already reported to January 10 makes it certain that the year 1942 produced the second largest yield of cotton in the history of the state. The largest crop ever produced in Mississippi was in 1937 with a total yield of 2,560,000 running bales. On account of the higher price the 1942 crop brought more money than the 1937 crop.

349 Oil Wells

The record shows that the 349 oil wells in Mississippi produced in 1942 a total of 28,616,509 barrels of crude oil, the major portion of which came from the Tinsley Field, in Yazoo County. This gives the Tinsley field the distinction of being the third largest in the United States in 1942. Since the discovery well was brought in less than four years ago the production in the state has reached a total of 46,726,357 barrels. Supervisor, H. M. Morse, predicts that there will be around one hundred wildcat wells drilled in the state this year and that any one of them might bring in a new field. The gas wells in the Jackson area produced 2,084,061,000 cubic feet of gas in 1942.

Business Upward Trend

According to a business review published by Mississippi State College there has been a steady upward trend in business matters in Mississippi for the past two years. It is estimated that the recent month of December checked up 30 per cent ahead of December 1941. The estimates made of general business conditions in the state are well supported by the fact that the state now has a general fund balance of around 13 million dollars in the treasury, the best balance on record at this season, and by the further fact that depositors in the state banks stand at around 78 million dollars above the same time a year ago.

"In The Army Now"

The Water Valley Herald has been sold to three well known newspaper men—Grady Cook, Pontotoc—Ned Lee, Eupora—Edward Shearer, formerly of Houston and Vicksburg. Jack Dale was editor and publisher until he gave up the paper several months ago to enter the military service and was succeeded as editor by Phillip E. Mullen, of Oxford. Now Mr. Mullen has given up the paper for the same purpose, of going to war. As expressed in his last issue Mr. Mullen believes first, that it is the duty of all able-bodied men within the age limits to go to war. And next he believes that after the war the men who fought the battles of their country will be given first and highest consideration by the people, politically and otherwise, and that the men who did not enlist for military service, being fit and of proper age, will be at a tremendous disadvantage. Mr. Shearer is to be editor and manager of the Water Valley paper.

Membership Drive

County Agents and 4-H Club leaders are making a concerted drive to increase membership in the clubs and have designated February 6 to 14 as Mobilization Week. During these days an effort will be made to add many young people to the present membership of 100,000 in Mississippi and 2,000,000 in the nation. A farmer's wife with two young boys took over the operation of a 17-cow dairy so that the husband could have more time in the field, and while doing this work they developed the following slogan: "Help the Allies whip the Japs, by helping your Mammies help your Paps."

Annual Education Meet

School teachers and college professors in the state composing the Mississippi Education Association will hold their annual meeting this year on the 10th, 11th and 12th days of March, and it will be the most largely attended convention to be entertained at Jackson in 1943, unless the Southern Baptist Convention meets here, which is being contemplated. The attendance of the educators will not be up to the usual high figures on account of war conditions.

The War

Now that the President is back from his trip to Africa, and now that the conference between the political and military heads of the British and American governments is over; it is a good guess that whatever was agreed upon will not materially change the strategy which already existed prior to that conference. In other words, the immediate objective is to clear the Germans and Italians out of Tunisia.

This should be done within the next six months, and possibly even sooner. Of course there are going to be many casualties before that is accomplished, but once it is accomplished the Allies would have a spring-board for their attacks on Sicily, Sardinia and Italy. Just how long Italy could withstand the punishment of the intensified and terrific bombardment to which she would be subjected from airfields established in North Africa by the Allies is a matter of conjecture. But it is generally thought that the Italian morale is at a very low ebb now, and it is not thought by those who are supposed to know that the Italian people would long withstand the terrific punishment which the Allies would be in a position to hand out from these airfields once they were established.

Of course in the meantime Germany is coping in for her daily dose of block-busting bombs at the hands of the RAF and the American Air Corps. But again, we point out that he who becomes too optimistic about the outlook for anything like a cessation of hostilities any time soon is doing some wishful thinking rather than arriving at a conclusion based upon the facts. It will be remembered in connection with the bombing which the Allies are handing out to the Axis that Germany tried its blitzkrieg of bombing on England more than two years ago and that England may be possibly much stronger in her war effort than she was at that time. Of one thing we may be certain, and that is that bombing she will not win the war.
